Description
<ul style="list-style-type: none">- Alice sends an invitation to her own email- Alice receives the email inviting her to Kune.cc- Alice clicks on the link and kune.cc opens- She was already logged in.- She sees a message saying that "Alice" invited her, so she may want to make Alice her friend- Alice accepts- Another message appears, saying that Alice is inviting you to be her friend...- Alice accepts- Alice goes to her buddy list and sees herself as a buddy!! (check http://kune.cc/#!samer, the last friend is "samer")
Some needed checks here:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">- If the person that invited me to Kune is myself, don't offer friending- If somehow I manage to offer friendship to myself, I shouldn't be able to accept (automatically rejected)- If somehow I manage to accept, I shouldn't be listed as a friend in my buddy list...
I guess the third check is not needed if we ensure the first two.
